Like a rock splashing into a pond, sending ripples throughout the water, we all affect the world around us. The question isn’t whether we change the world, but what way we change it. It’s not if we make ripples, but how we make them. Partnering with Samaritas, you have the opportunity to join with thousands of people sending positive ripples through the lives of the tens of thousands of neighbors we serve each year.

Like the Good Samaritan who helped and healed the person abused and abandoned beside the road, and did so despite the differences between the two, Samaritas is there for people — no matter who they are, no matter their origins, no matter their beliefs, no matter what brought them to their places of need. Our selfless love of our neighbors is a collection of many rocks simultaneously making massive waves of positive change throughout our Michigan communities and the wider world. Your prayers, volunteering, and financial gifts strengthen the splash of our work and help more people in greater ways than we could ever achieve alone. Serving others like this is how we ripple. How will you ripple with us?
